M1 – Old World Peddlers Cart by Carl Bronsdon

Class Fee: $109

Welcome to Old World Europe! This delightful peddlers cart is inspired by antique peddler's carts of Europe. Constructed of wood with lots of delightful detailing, it would look wonderful as a pastry or candy cart, Christmas or Halloween peddler's wagon, or filled with beautiful French flowers. It is shown in red and gold but would look equally as good in cream, forest green or bright yellow. Several options of colors will be provided. The interior display shelf can be placed in a variety of ways depending on the builder. Students will learn tricks for working with laser cut wood, board, and gold paper Dresden trim.

T1 – Giggle Water by Marti Icenogle and Cindy McDaniel

Class Fee: $59

The Roaring 20s always bring to mind speakeasies. However, not everyone went out to party, some people partied at home consuming the liquor they purchased from bootleggers or made themselves from recipes, such as the ones found in the book Giggle Water. And, it is the book Giggle Water we will build from laser cut pieces of wood and a paper cover to house a home bar. Of course, we will also need to do a little bit of painting and lay our parquet floor before we can apply the paper book cover. Since our residents have a lovely new apartment with a fabulous view of the city, the decorative French door that they just purchased must also be installed. Then, their black mirrored-bar and black Art Deco style chair trimmed in silver need to be assembled. Next we will install the faux glass shelves above the bar and hang their Art Deco mirror. Last we will color our acrylic bottles to look like liquor or wine and apply the tiny liquor labels. Now, we have a lovely home bar where the residents can sip their wine and drinks, and maybe even dance a Charleston or two. 3" x 3" x 3" This project fits perfectly in a baseball cube which will be provided for you to display your finished scene.

T2 – William & Mary Display Cabinet by Shannon Moore

Class Fee: $109

This display cabinet was inspired by a William & Mary piece made in England in 1700. The size of the piece, about 2-14"W x 1-1/4"D x 4-3/4"H, lends itself to many scenes. Other than the drawer front which is made from maple burl, the remainder of the piece is made from cherry. Features include: a working drawer, turned legs, a display area with two shelves behind a "glassed" working door, and curved stretchers. The parts are precut, and we'll work on assembly in class.

T3 – A Gentleman in Formal Tails by Rachele Spiegel

Class Fee: $119

Originally worn by English country gentlemen to make horseback riding easier, the tailcoat was first popularized for daywear and then, by the 1860's was used more commonly for evening wear. The suit is appropriate for any time between the Regency period and modern times; and, with black tie, was also the late Victorian butler's uniform. When made in bright colors, the look can be adapted as a Circus Ringmaster's costume. Students will learn miniature tailoring and fitting techniques, how to reduce bulk for a natural and realistic look when costuming in layers (shirt, vest, jacket) and will use a combination of gluing and hand sewing. We will also wig the doll in a basic style. Please bring small sharp scissors, pointed tweezers and magnification, if needed.

W4 – Prairie Spindle Loveseat by Shannon Moore

Class Fee: $99

The prairie spindle style was made popular during the Arts & Crafts period. This loveseat, made from cherry, features a low slung back, spindles on both ends and back, and wide arms. Its size, about 5-1/8"L x 2-1/2"D x 2-1/2"H, make it appropriate for many different scenes. The wood pieces will be precut, and we'll work on assembly and simple upholstery of the seat and back cushions. Green, red or black fabric will be among the choices for the cushions. The original piece would have been made around 1900.
