Carnegie Science Center 19.0 MI / 30.63 KM AWAY

The USS Requin submarine (commissioned in WWII) moors on the north shore of the Ohio. It's one of the exhibits to be explored along with an extensive planetarium, observatory, and superb miniature railroad display that delights the child in all of us. (412)237-3400

The Carnegie Museums 21.4 MI / 34.43 KM AWAY

While his first act of philanthropy was a library for his home town in Scotland, Andrew Carnegie went on to establish the Carnegie Institute, Carnegie Library, Carnegie Music & Lectures Halls, Carnegie Museum of Art, and Carnegie Museum of Natural History in his adopted American home. Carnegie's driving force was to establish resources for the people of Pittsburgh that he could have used in his formative years.

Heinz History Center 19.1 MI / 30.8 KM AWAY

Operating in association with the Smithsonian Institution. See the original Mr. Rogers Neighborhood, etc.

Mount Washington 18.4 MI / 29.65 KM AWAY

Nowhere else can you stand in the city and look out on Downtown and miles beyond as you can on Mount Washington. Ascending 400 feet and traversed by two funicular railways (called inclines) – Mount Washington is a haven for strolling sightseers, lovers, and busy captains of industry taking in lunch at one of the posh bars and eateries that dot the cliff side.
