TH1 – A Winter Garden by Sally Manwell

Class Fee: $70

Have you made a beaded tree before? If you haven't, here is a small tree to try your hand at beading. If you have, here is another craft to add to your miniature skills. We will bead a tree and a small bush. They will look like they are covered in ice. The scene has a fence and a birdbath that we will cover in "snow and icicles" and then add a pile of snow to finish the scene. The scene will be housed in an acrylic box 2 1/2" x 2 1/2" x 5 1/2". There is enough room to add a figure or an animal.

Minimum Skill Level: Intermediate 1/4" scale

TH2 – Small Shaker Sewing Stand by Shannon Moore

Class Fee: $84

This versatile set of cabinet drawers is a timeless piece. It was originally made of pine as a Shaker sewing stand featuring the standard Shaker graduating drawer size. The piece had such things as a small removable writing surface stored in the top full drawer, graceful curves on the sides, and two smaller drawers above. We've kept those features in our version but have chosen to make our version of cherry. The lines and size of this piece allow it to be used in many different eras and for many different purposes. The parts will be pre-cut so that the emphasis of the class can be placed on assembly and final "tweaking" of this piece in the time allowed. 2 1/8" W x 1 1/2" D x 2 5/8" H

She is fully posable so you can position her any way you wish: a snow angel, standing, sitting, kneeling, etc. We will also be making snow- as much as you'd like and, in any shape that you want. Along the way, we will make a good-sized pastry board, a cookie sheet and a set of tongs. Sugar cookies or gingerbread? We will leave this to a later time, but your cutters will be able to produce polymer clay cookies.
