TLF1 – Brief History of Horse Toys by Mary Barrett

$80

A brief discussion of how the horse went through incredible changes through history, their importance to our world and how horse toys changed alongside the horse itself. For joining Mary for lunch you will receive a two 1" scale horse toys for your collection.

TLF2 – A Taste of Chocolate, in Miniature by Carl Bronsdon

$165

Chocolate. Just the word makes the mouth water. One of the world's favorite sweets. In this luncheon we will talk briefly about the introduction of chocolate to the US and how it became the worldwide sensation it is today. We will sample some of the many different varieties of chocolate available today and talk about how to make it in miniature with a brief overview of supplies, materials, and techniques. Your 1" scale gift will utilize many of the techniques covered and will make a wonderful addition to a tea shop, living room or cozy nook by the fire.

TLF3 – Marylee and Friends go Coast to Coast by Becki L. Scomb

$85

Come celebrate a humorous trek across America (alter ego). She and her friends Phronsie and Carolina have adventures at Graceland, St. Louis Zoo to name just a few of their stops. As they zig-zag along the way, they have fun as they go! What fun! They also gather found and funny memories. Join us for the laughter and fun! Your special gift will be a painted and assembled oceanic themed arch. Join us far and wide... from Sea to Shining Sea...

TLF4 – Tiny Wooden German Miniatures Design and Practices by Volker Arnold

$95

Join Volker Arnold from Germany as he talks about his 40-year history as a designer of scrollsaw patterns and wooden miniatures. You will learn how he imagines, creates and brings to life Christmas doll houses, German buildings, vehicles, furniture, Easter and lots of toys and useful wooden accessories. He will talk about easy tips on how to easily go from an idea, to computer drawings, then new products with Corel Draw. Volker will then demonstrate how to assemble the smallest miniature houses 1/4000 (3 mm). He will have samples to pass around in the luncheon. His special gift to you will be a painted and assembled oceanic themed arch. Join us far and wide... from Sea to Shining Sea...

TLS1 – Delft's Exquisite Blue and White History by Ginger Landon-Siegel

$118

The sweeping history of Delft's exquisite blue and white creations stretches across the globe, from "Sea to Shining Sea!" Between Delft's early beginnings founded in the traditional blue and white porcelains that traveled from China to the Netherlands in the 17th century, to the intense love the British Queen had of these unique pieces, Delft ceramics developed into a truly luxurious product whose beauty has continued to be enjoyed long into this century. Explore with me the fascinating history behind Delftware and the intense love of this combination of blue and white in ceramics. Your "ready to display" gift, a dimensionally layered village windmill scene, glazed to look like Delft, will be created in one of 3 unique blue and white ornament sized teacups. For added fun you will also receive a variety of blue and white miniature creations to open throughout the luncheon. If you love blue and white as much as I do, come and share that joy with me! Bring a favorite piece from your collection – life size or miniature scale to share!

TLS2 – Antiques in Miniature: Creating New Heirlooms by Bradley Meinke

$175

An informative and interactive lecture by IGMA Artisan Bradley L. Meinke. Attendees will receive a comprehensive packet of printed materials to support the host's information, along with a 1" scale gift. Meinke is known for his aged and worn historically inspired furniture and accessories. Bradley will share his research and inspiration process along with workbench tips. You will receive a 1" scale painted captains chart/map chest as your gift.

TLS3 – Costume Accessories from Victorian Times to Today by Rachele Speigel

$120

Come with me on a journey through the ins and outs of the costume accessory. Stockings, shoes, hats, scarves, and gloves first served to protect the wearer from the elements. Fans, parasols, and umbrellas protected from the weather. Bags and purses held valuable items close to the body. Pins and broches held clothing together and soon became articles of adornment as jewelry. Over time accessories became social, economic, and political symbols and were changed and embellished. By the Victorian era costume accessories had become an integral part of fashion and styles evolved rapidly with advances in manufacturing and changing tastes and values. We will dart through the centuries, looking at trends that came and went with some examples in miniature and photos. Your gift will be a choice of 1" scale Victorian accessories, or accessories from the 1920's.

TLS4 – Wrought Iron Styles – Elegance for any Little House by Sherry Taylor

$109

Wrought iron has an unending appeal in many different décor styles. Meet me for the luncheon as I explain how I started in miniatures and the challenge of creating pieces that look like wrought iron, but do so without metal. Learn where I get some of my inspiration or suggest an item you have seen that would be a great reproduction. We will talk about incorporating wrought iron looks into all home styles and some aging techniques to make items look antique. As a special gift I am giving a set of wrought iron style wall sconces in 1" scale.
